Joy

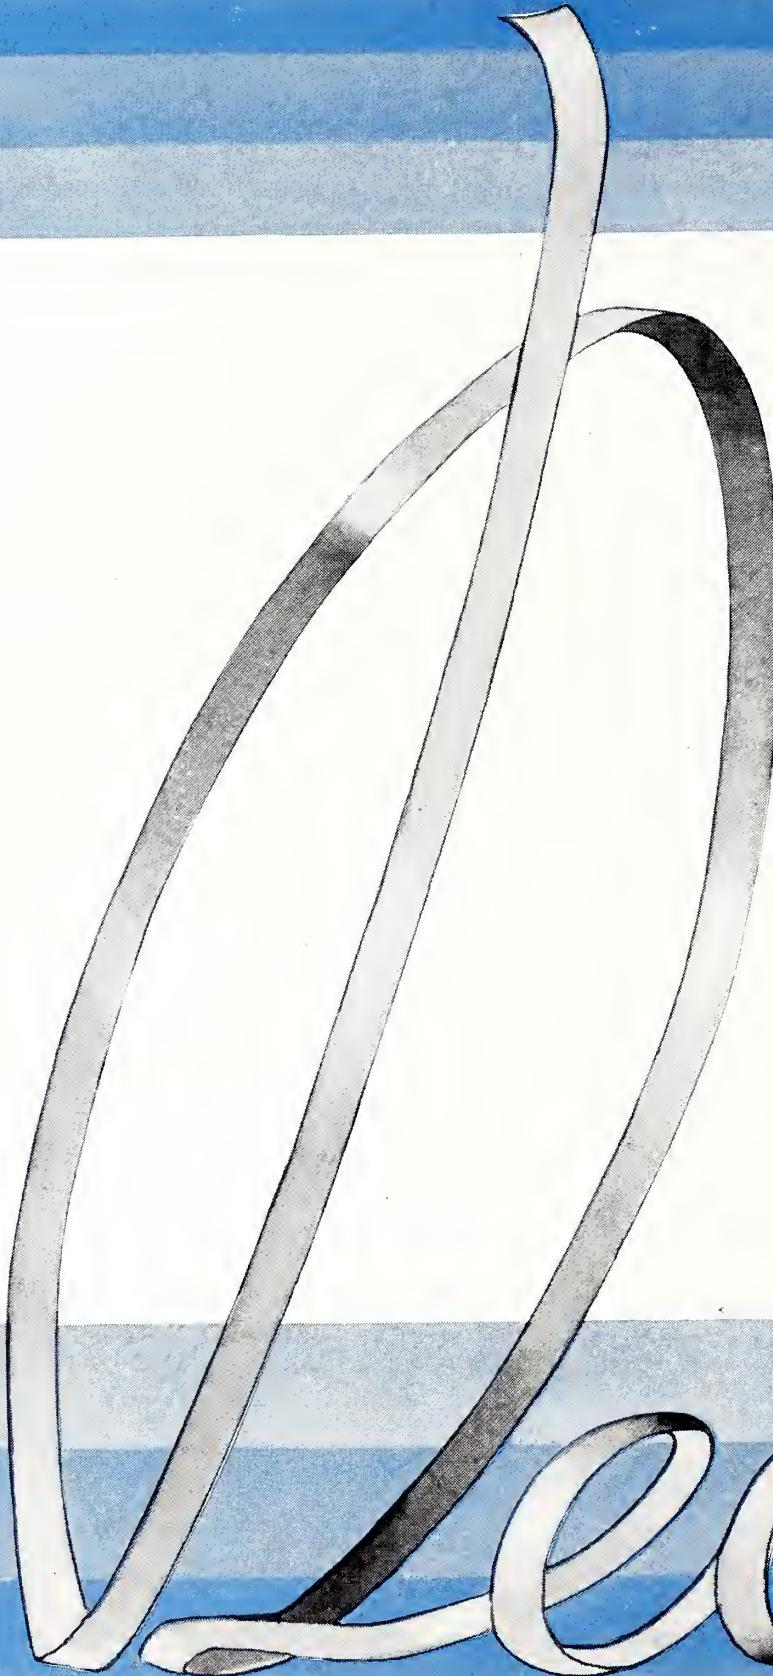

South Carolina! The name is fraught with suggestions of scenic beauty spots and historical backgrounds. The native Carolinian might spend many of his vacations inside the borders of his own state and not grow tired from seeing the same thing or doing the same thing. For the recreational pursuits and natural charm of the state are quite varied and there is an appeal for everyone. South Carolina scenery ranges from a delightful coastal region with numerous beaches and Palmetto trees to up-state mountains with their bracing climate and beautiful Laurel. Camden and Aiken at once suggest horses and riding, polo, steeplechases, and racing, together with golf and tennis. The fine strands draw immense crowds in the summer time; and the Middleton and Azalea Gardens in Charleston, and Brookgreen near Murrells Inlet are examples of formal and rustic beauty that remains in the mind of the visitor.

With the many attractions of our state in mind, we have as a theme for the 1937 BOHEMIAN a pictorial representation of different sections of South Carolina.

edi

There are many reasons why we dedicate the 1937 BOHEMIAN to Professor Bourne and Professor Coates, but we refrain from printing an eulogy since they are all summed up in the one we give: Because we like them enough to want to. Best wishes to both.

Negro Wedding

Book One

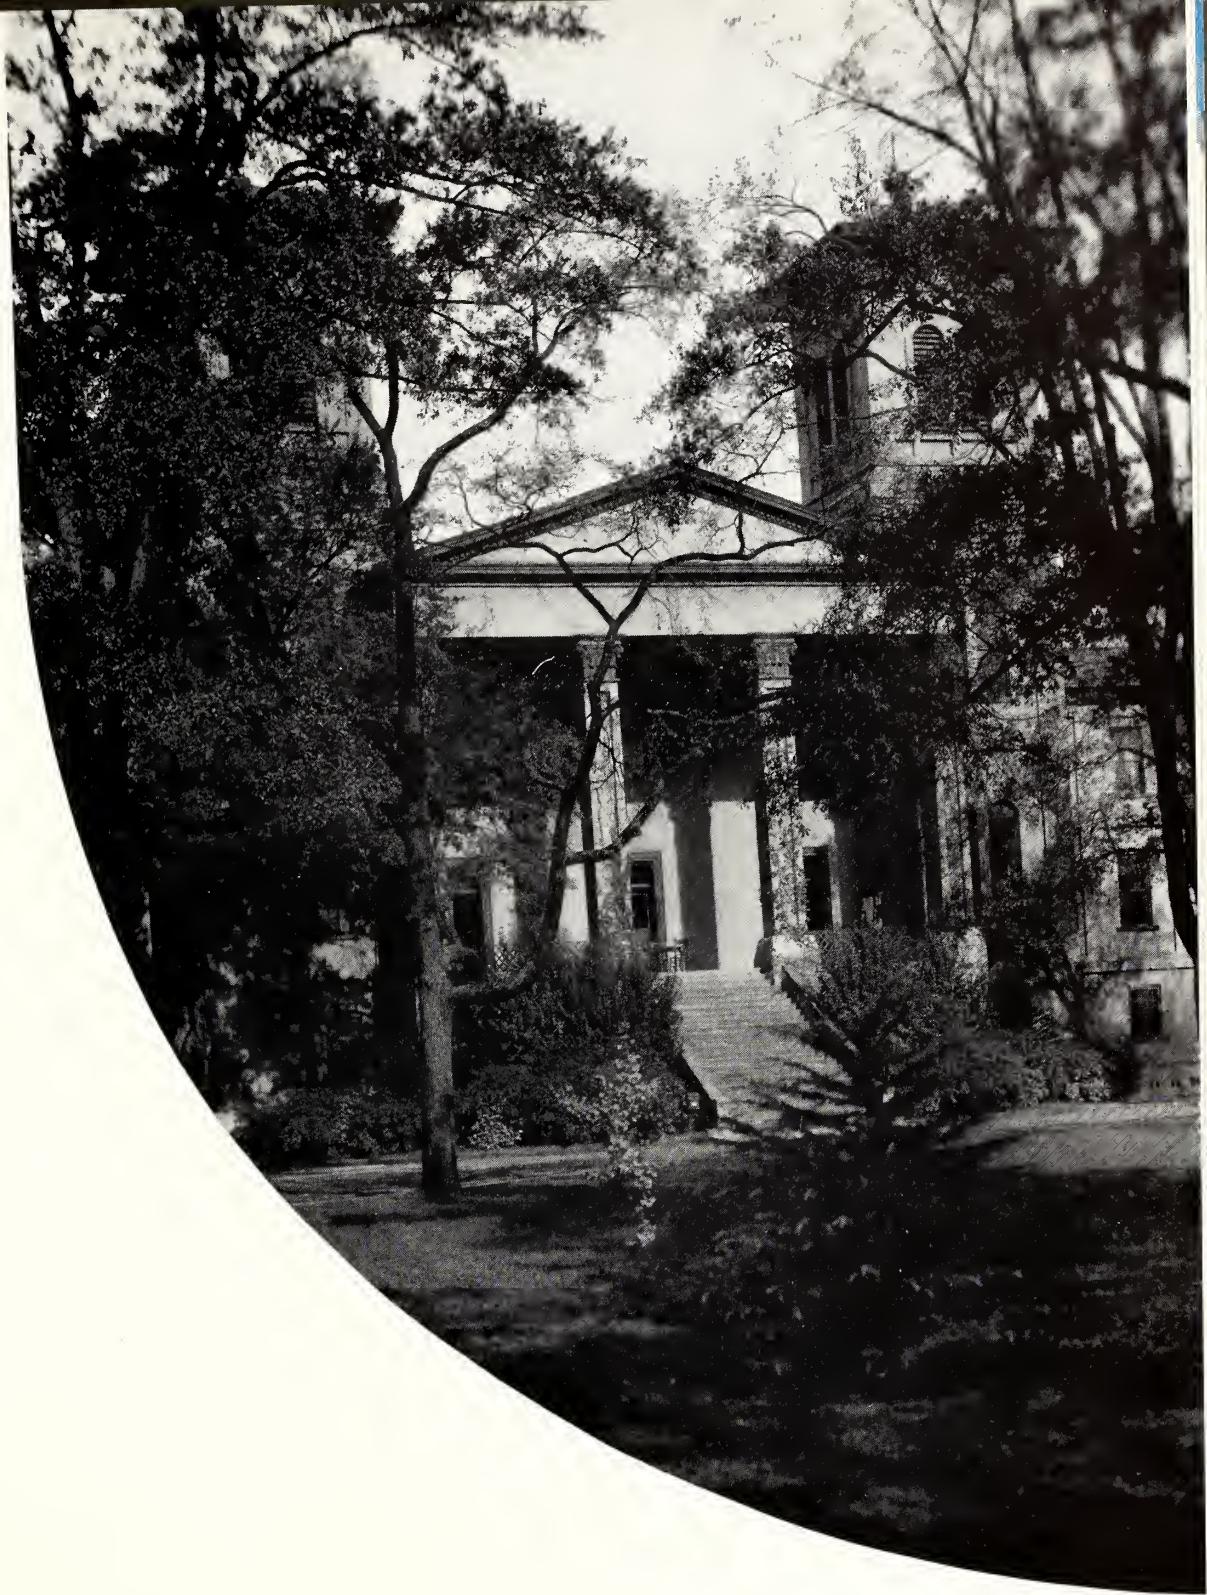

This driveway on Tomotley Plantation is typical of the old plantation days in the South Carolina "Low Country" where it is located. One can almost see the large white house that must stand at this end of the drive and hear the singing of the Negroes as they come in from the fields in the evening.

TO THE SENIORS IN PARTICULAR

REMEMBER THAT EDUCATION MAKES US MASTER OF CONDITIONS BUT SERVANTS OF MEN. TAKE THIS VIEW AND YOU UNDERSTAND SOMETHING OF THE WOFFORD SPIRIT. YOU ARE NOT EDUCATED. YOU HAVE BEEN, STILL ARE, AND WILL ALWAYS BE, IN THE PROCESS OF BEING EDUCATED. EDUCATION IS ONLY A PROCESS. AT EVERY STEP, AT EVERY GOAL REACHED, THERE COMES NOT ONLY THE OPPORTUNITY FOR, BUT ALSO THE CALL TO, SERVICE. TO ILLUMINE SOMEWHAT THE DARK PLACES, TO GET UNDER BURDENS HERE AND THERE, TO DO YOUR PART IN STRAIGHT THINKING, TO SO WALK IN THE RIGHT WAY THAT OTHERS WILL BE INCLINED TO FOLLOW—THAT IS THE OPPORTUNITY AHEAD.

Book Two

Lying in the edge of the Piedmont and in approximately the center of the state is the capital, Columbia. The State House is shown in the center of this air view of the city and is beautifully located in the midst of a small park in the heart of the city. Columbia can be taken as a representative center of industrial South Carolina. Also its curb market where "iodine vegetables" are sold is known all over the state.

CLASS POEM

OVERTURE TO LIFE

By G. E. KING, Class Poet

Two towers
Reared against the sky;
Fading dimmer, dimmer,
Back into the past,
Until at last they're gone.
But hush!
A song keeps coming
Nearer, nearer—
But not near enough
To hear its words
Or recognize its melody.

Moonlight—
And waters bright,
And youth's clear song of love.
Then two begin to dance
Down a silvery, rippling aisle—
Romance!
Up to an altar shining bright—
The rippling aisle grows still,
The silver loses all its glow.
But ah! The altar glistens
More and more!

Sorrow—
And blackest doubt,
And a mournful dirge of woe.
Then one begins to grope
Down on knees upon a stony road,
Toward a single ray of light
Shining through the night,
Until that ray is multiplied
Three score!
God is revealed—but nearer,
Brighter than before!

Memories—
Filing past the inner eye,
Softened by the rosy veil of time—
Keep marching back,
Until the veil takes on a warmer hue!
Two towers high are coming
Nearer, nearer;
And the song is growing
Clearer, clearer;
Until at last it bursts
Into triumphal melody!

Conquer and prevail!
Hail, Alma Mater, hail!

Sinking the Putt

Book Three

Ortho

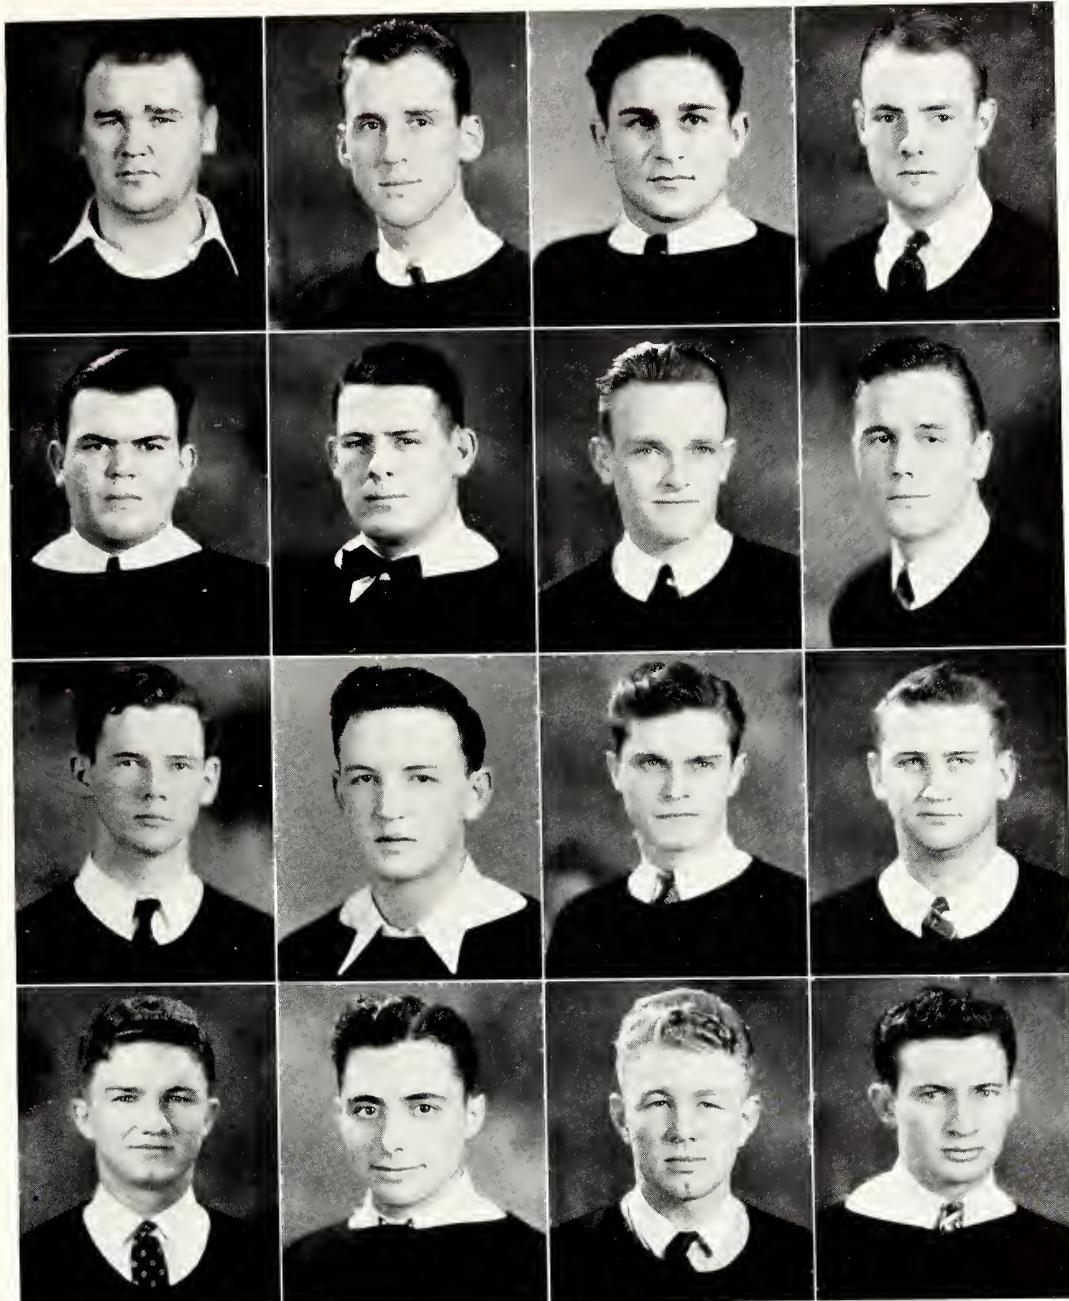

Winding and twisting through the hills, on beyond the lake in the distance, and into the heart of the mountain sunset, this highway presents an alluring appeal to the mountain-lover to enjoy the dreamy stillness of dusk suggested in this scene.

*"You love every sunset,
And sometimes you seem to chase the sun
As it sinks behind a hill.
You dive over into it—
But you never reach it."*

FOOT

Our 1935 football season closed with the "Little Four" championship safely tucked away. Again everyone optimistically predicted: "Wofford will surely have a good football team next year." However, after graduation had taken its toll, an unusually large one this time, and after several valuable players had dropped out of school, the material from which to produce a winning eleven was mostly missing. Also the Sophomore support was below par as evidenced by the fact that the 1935 Freshmen failed to win a game. Undiscouraged, however, the veterans Kellett, Ariail, Rogers, Berry, Avgerinos, Wofford, Jones, Dickson, and Ashmore took to the field in hopeful spirits and gave what they had in every game. The first game was with V. M. I. at Lexington. The Flying Keydets flew away with us in an 18-0 mile wind, although they were held scoreless in the last half. However, before the end of the season we regarded that first game as somewhat of a moral victory for us. Our hopes were raised by the score but were soon lowered a trifle when Furman's state champs trampled us on Snyder field to the heart-rending score of 31-0. Too bad. We still had hopes of winning a few games, but material was scarce, reserves were scarce, and worst of all, easy opponents were scarce.

FOOT

The power that Wofford had been holding in reserve was displayed against Piedmont. Jules Carson's cohorts rushed through the Georgians at the rate of 37-0. Thank heaven for Piedmont! Next week our boys lost to Wake Forest by five touchdowns. Say no more. But the Terriers were still undaunted. Erskine came up to Spartanburg to tangle with us Methodists for our home-coming battle. The Flying Fleet did most of the tangling, and when everything was untangled Wofford was in tangles and dauples. We hate things that fly anyway. Erskine's Gettys, Pressley & Co. took 26 pounds of bacon back to Due West. We had none.

We next toured down to the land of sunshine for a tilt with the Rollins Tars, — and got tarred. George Miller starred for the Floridians in their 32-14 victory. It was in this game that Dick Ballenger caught a punt just as it left the punter's toe and raced across the goal for one of Wofford's touchdowns.

A rest, and then Newberry came up to Terrier Town with its tribe of Indians. Those redskins unleashed power that we didn't even know they had, and the score was a 7-7 tie. Bill Jones starred for Wofford. Wofford's crippled eleven went up against a strong Presbyterian team in Clinton the Saturday before Thanksgiving. P. C. won, made 20 points; but we left a run in their Blue Stockings 7 inches long. This was one of Wofford's best-played games. Danner and Gladden featured in a 90-yard return of a kickoff for Wofford's score.

In the last game of the season, our "Sophomore and reserve" team was trounced by the Citadel Bulldogs in Augusta by six touchdowns. It was practically a track meet for "Tittadel," the climax to a disastrous season.

But seriously now: despite the unimpressive showing our team made on the gridiron this year, the staff of this, the 1937 BOHEMIAN, wishes to commend the members for their fighting spirit that did not let down even when they were hopelessly outclassed. A team that keeps this spirit and keeps training need never be ashamed of its record. Again we look forward to better things in football next year.

If our 1937 basketball season was not the most successful one ever seen by fans, certainly they have seldom witnessed a flashier, scrappier, team in action than this year's Terrier quint. All the height of former teams graduated last year and the Terriers were hampered by the loss. But they resorted to speed, accurate shooting, and close guarding to overcome the handicap.

Mention must be made of the Clemson-Wofford contest played in our fieldhouse. The ball was in the air when the whistle blew, and it swished the "Bengal" basket, making possible the freak of winning the game after it was over.

Wofford loses by graduation Edwin "Bud" Kinard, all-state forward; Doug Cannon, guard; and Tom Snyder, forward.

After a long period of absence from the list of athletic activities at Wofford, baseball was taken up again in 1934 and was played for two years. But interest lagged and it was dropped in 1936. However, a team was organized again this year and there seems to be more support behind it than before. The 1937 team is going strong and it looks as though this time the game will stick.

South Carolina proves the completeness of its natural recreational resources with several fine strands. These vary in their appeal from the glamour and whirl of Myrtle Beach, which took on the proportions of a city with startling rapidity, to the somewhat more rustic Pawleys Island which still can offer a most beautiful strand with quiet and solitude. The above picture is of Folly Beach, near Charleston.

The Stratford Players is the dramatic organization of Wofford campus. It is composed of those who are particularly interested in play production, and each year endeavors to put on one or more plays. For the last two years the club has collaborated with the Converse College dramatic group to their mutual benefit.

Membership in the Stratford Players is attained by evidence of dramatic ability and by election.

Blue Key

Blue Key is a national honorary fraternity which has for its purpose to draw together, in each college or university where a chapter is located, the leaders of student life. The founders of the organization believed that, by unifying the campus activities by organizing the leaders, a much more effective program could be realized.

The Terrier Boosters, Wofford's chapter, claims its right to exist on a basis of service to the student body. Last year Blue Key was instrumental in bringing about a cut system. Membership in the chapter is limited to Juniors and Seniors and is not to exceed thirty-five. Eligibility is determined on a basis of honor points which are awarded for offices held, athletic achievement, responsible positions, etc. Election to Blue Key is considered a signal honor.

International Relations Club

Wofford's only society to honor excellence in scholarship was organized in 1922, the second of its kind in the South. The high standards raised by the local organization make membership the most desirable of campus honors. Maintenance of an average of ninety throughout the college course is one qualification for membership in the club which is limited to forty men. At its fortnightly meetings, subjects of international import are treated in well-planned programs.

The International Relations Club endeavors to create among its members that better understanding of the foreign situation necessary for the maintenance of peace.

Our local organization sends delegates to the Southeastern International Relations Clubs' Conference each spring. Also an annual banquet is held every May. Dr. A. M. Trawick is the faculty sponsor.

Beta Pi Theta

National Honorary French Fraternity

THETA RHO CHAPTER

Theta Rho Chapter of Beta Pi Theta was established at Wofford in 1927. The fraternity tries to draw together those men who, by their continued study and high marks in French, evidence their ability and interest in that language in particular and in cultural subjects and scholarship. An average of above 90 in French is required and a general scholastic standing of above the average.

The program of Beta Pi Theta is more or less regular meetings at which essays are given and discussions conducted pertaining to contemporary French literature, all in French. In recent years the outstanding feature of the club has been its annual Christmas program which is attended by many college students and their friends from town. Much (we are tempted to say most) of the credit for the success of these presentations is due Prof. Salmon, whose assistance to the fraternity is indispensable.

Twelve new men were taken into the group this year.

Delta Chi Alpha

National Honorary Christian Leadership Fraternity

Delta Chi Alpha was organized in December, 1933, for the purpose of promoting a fraternal spirit among the promising Christian leaders of the campus and to enlist worthy students into the various fields of Christian service. "Being prompted by a laudable desire to improve ourselves in matters pertaining to the Christian Ministry, and to develop and strengthen those powers of the mind with which God has endowed us, we shall found and promote this National Ministerial Brotherhood." Although it was originally intended that membership be limited to students planning a life of full-time Christian service, the Wofford chapter has seen fit to admit others.

This year Delta Chi Alpha has sponsored each week a fifteen-minute devotional program, broadcast over the local radio station, WSPA.

sea

For the sponsor section of our book we have appropriately saved one of our most beautiful pictures. The gardens of the lower part of the state are one of its most attractive features. Brookgreen, Middleton, Magnolia and Azalea Gardens are the most widely known, and every year thousands of visitors enjoy the beauty of their trees, moss, flowers, and restful quiet and solitude.

Dedication

As this year comes to an end and this book closes, we wish to leave this page as a dedication to the memory of two students whose lives closed while they were with us. Both were in the class of '39.

CHARLES PORTER
1916—1936

JULIAN FOWLER
1918—1937

Who's Who in the Senior Class

The 1937 BOHEMIAN prints the following list as a replacement of the usual well padded list of "honors" which has been printed under the class pictures heretofore. This sheet is edited and composed by the BOHEMIAN staff, and only the holders of the more important positions of the campus are included, the minimum requirement for recognition being one of the following: Class Presidents, Editors and Business Managers of the three publications. Student Body Officers, Members Senior Order of Gnomes, and Presidents of Honorary Fraternities.

BEACHAM, MARION W.—President Beta Pi Theta; manager varsity basketball.

BERRY, "J. O."—President Blue Key; Vice-President Senior Class; President Pan Hellenic Council; member Senior Order Gnomes; President Block W Club. Listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." Voted "happiest" and "best liked."
